AMERICAN NICKEL WORKS,

Camden, N. J. Oct 21 1887

Mr. David M. Bap

Dear Sir

My clerk informs me that you decline to pay for the nickel blanks which were delivered to you in compliance with your written order, on the ground that you understood that your request that cleaned and milled blanks should be substituted for those which you had bought had been unconditionally complied with

I think however that you will on reflection remember that it was yesterday arranged that the uncleaned blanks already sent should be held for and to hold by the client as a reserve to fall back upon in case of unforeseen trouble in the manufacture or transportation of the cleaned blanks

Yours truly
Joseph Wharton
